

Go where you want. When you want. Without reservations.

"When an idea pops into my head, it doesn't give me 24 hours of notice. I ride the regular Pace bus service because they give me the freedom to live life as it happens. Tomorrow, I'm taking one to meet my friend at the movies, but tonight I'm headed to the grocery store to pick up a missing ingredient for my mom's recipe.

It's a lot easier than people think. All it takes is a little practice."

If you're ready to take control of your day, visit PaceBus.com.